

Thank you to those who donated many beautiful baby clothes, toys and various other baby items for the WELCA Mock Baby Shower this past March 17th. Diane Kelly a representative from the New Life Center was so very impressed with our generosity. Diane also informed us that the NLC is now collecting slightly used clothing for older children. She also told us they are collecting coupons for baby items and many other things, like strollers, to help those families in need. The following is a thank you note from Diane:

Dear Paula and St. John's WELCA Ladies,
Thank you for inviting me to your church .
a baby shower to benefit the Lutheran Social Services New Mother Program. The ladies of your church were warm and welcoming and I enjoyed our time together. Your congregation members were so generous in donating baby items for our layette for poor families. I enjoyed our delicious refreshments and good fellowship.
Thanks again for your warm hospitality.
I hope to work with you again to serve the poor of Nassau County.
My best wishes to you and your congregation
for a Very Happy Easter.

God's Blessings
Diane Kelly

On May 5, Carol Clemente, Ruth Williamson, Joan Pirrone, Pauline Feltkamp and I enjoyed an evening of classical music at Stony Brook University's Staller Center for the Arts when we attended our organist, Judy Pang's, last of six solo piano recitals required for the completion of her doctoral degree. Judy took command of the stage for almost 90 minutes performing an all-Russian program including works by Scriabin, Balakirev and Mussorgsky. These works not only showcased Judy's virtuosic technical ability but also her emotional interpretation of the piece. For those of you who may not be aware of the scope of Judy's amazing talent, reprinted below is a summary of her many accomplishments to date.

Now that Judy's finished with her musical studies she will be focusing her attention on her upcoming wedding this August in London. In preparation for the big event, Judy will be taking the summer off but will be back with us again in September. Please join me in wishing Judy and her fiancé all God's blessings in their future life together.

- Charlene Comastri

Ms. Judy Pang has concertized frequently as both solo and chamber musician in the US, UK, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Finland, Australia and China. In New York City where she resides, Ms. Pang's most recent solo appearances have taken place at Steinway Hall, Yamaha Piano Salon, Greenfield Hall, Stoller Recital Hall and Bargemusic. As a devoted chamber musician, she has collaborated with Hai-Ye Ni, principle cellist of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, as well as the celebrated er-hu player Hongmei Yu and gu-zheng player Xiaohong Zhang. Most recently she also collaborated with Polish cellist Evva Mizerska on a two-week concert tour of the Mediterranean.

Ms. Pang obtained her Bachelor's of Music degree with honours in 2006 from the University of Melbourne where she studied with Igor Machlak. During that period, she was awarded first prize in the Melbourne University Aria and Concerto competition, the Alumni Chamber Music Competition and the Piano Duo Competition. After relocating to New York, she developed her Master of Music degree under the tutelage of Nina Svetlanova at the Manhattan School of Music where she was a recipient of the President's Award and Dean's Award. Ms. Pang is currently a doctorate of musical arts candidate at Stony Brook University where she is a student of Gilbert Kalish and Christina Dahl. She has also studied with the pianist Bernard Flavigny, a protégé of Olivier Messiaen and Alfred Cortot.
